Corporate Governance:

The company adopts leading practices in corporate governance, incorporating key requirements and directives from relevant regulatory authorities and embracing globally recognized standards of the best international applications and practices.

Both the Board of Directors and the Executive Management team firmly believe that understanding, applying, and actively implementing an effective governance program within the company aligns with its aspirations, achieves its goals, enhances its capabilities, and develops its resources. This approach establishes a system that fosters a clear understanding of responsibilities and duties while promoting ethical and professional practices.

To achieve this, the Board of Directors has adopted various policies and procedures and established suitable systems and controls to secure shareholders rights while upholding the duties and responsibilities of the Board of Directors and Executive Management. Consequently, the company's governance framework incorporates a three-lines-of-defense approach within its internal control system. Managed by the Internal Audit, Risk Management, and Business Continuity departments, these lines of defense foster independent supervision, reinforce accountability, and drive operational effectiveness. The summary of these lines of defense is as follows:

01 First Line of Defense

Company Business Units

Undertaking commitment, application, and implementation of the company's strategy and development, measuring performance, and adhering to internal control systems and management work.

Senior Management

Striking a balance of power between the Board of Directors and senior executives, ensuring effective internal control through the adoption of relevant policies, and overseeing the measurement of business performance and the implementation and development of the approved strategy.

03 Third Line of Defense

Internal Audit

The internal audit develops an annual plan to evaluate procedures within the company's departments, pinpointing potential operational weaknesses. The findings are then detailed in a report that the internal audit presents to both Executive Management and the Audit Committee. This report encompasses the corrective action plan proposed by the departments. The internal audit actively supports implementing these corrective measures, ensuring minimal impact on the company's operations and continuity.

01 Second Line of Defense

Risk Management and Business Continuity

They further outline the committees delegated powers, mandated regular or annual discussion topics, vacancy-filling processes, meeting protocols, and quorum requirements for both convening meetings and endorsing recommendations.

These policies, formally ratified by the General Assembly, outline essential objectives and principles guiding the selection of the ideal candidates. The Remuneration and Nomination Committee, entrusted with implementing these policies, oversees their consistent implementation. The policy delineates the constitution of the board and the requisite qualifications for membership, ensuring that, in all instances, non-executive members constitute no less than half of the board, with independent members constituting no less than one-third of the board.

Furthermore, the policy outlines the general criteria for selecting candidates for board membership, the procedures for nomination, and the data and information that applicants must submit to the company. Zain KSA has followed both a top-down and bottom-up approach in identifying key risks that impact the organizational objectives. This was done to ensure that everyone in the Company is aware of the risks, and necessary actions were initiated to mitigate such risks thereby assuring they are systematically assessed, mitigated, and monitored. Below is a list of risks that have the most material impact on Zain KSA and how they are being mitigated:

Strategic risks

◆ Customer Experience

As the third largest mobile telecoms operator, Zain KSA recognizes the need to add value to the market through delivering an exceptional customer experience. While Zain KSA currently retains an advantageous position as a first-mover in the 5G network, it faces challenges in coverage. The 5G network coverage is one of the top three customer pain points and one of the main causes of churn.

Addressing these challenges and enhancing coverage across all networks is critical for Zain KSA, not only to meet customer expectations but also to sustain competitiveness and retain market share. Zain KSA is committed to several key initiatives focusing on coverage and capacity, network service quality, network health check and preventive maintenance, customer experience, digital penetration, touchpoint experience, and transition to digital channels. Together, these initiatives reaffirm Zain KSA's commitment to improving network infrastructure, enhancing customer experience, and embracing digital transformation to continuously meet the dynamic consumer expectations in the telecommunications sector.

Successful implementation of the BSS Transformation program

Zain KSA's Digital BSS transformation program that used to be one of the top risks for the company has been effectively managed by the controls and measures that top management has put in place. This led to the mitigation of the risk of failure to successfully implement the program and failure to improve agility, time-to-market, and supporting the overall company's digital transformation program.

Zain KSA is making great progress with the implementation of the Digital BSS transformation program that will support business systems and ensure a successful comprehensive digital transformation program.

Prepaid Sector Growth

The prepaid sector is a vital sector for Zain KSA, and its growth is essential for expanding its overall market share. Despite the decline in prepaid revenues, Zain KSA recognizes various contributing factors, including new legislation impacting distribution, pricing risks, and service quality concerns.

To overcome these challenges and enhance the prepaid sector's performance, Zain KSA is implementing a comprehensive strategy that includes initiatives to expand sales points, launch innovative prepaid offerings, diversify sales channels, improve revenue management, enhance partner management, and create a value proposition targeting the youth segment.

These collective initiatives underscore Zain KSA's commitment to reviving the prepaid sector, adapting to market dynamics, and promoting sustainable growth through effective distribution management and strategic products and partnerships.

Market Competition for Business Sector (B2B)

The B2B commercial sector is a vital growth engine for Zain KSA and a contributor to overall revenue growth. However, the market landscape is evolving with new licenses issued to several internet providers by the CST. These new participants, employing aggressive pricing strategies, are pressuring prices.

To address the B2B sector challenges, the strategic approach reflects alliances and partnerships, alongside the ability to adapt to market dynamics and address business opportunities through innovation. Zain KSA has maintained competitiveness and continuing expansion within the dynamic telecom market. Collaborative efforts aim to identify key business profiles, formulate tailored solutions, and mitigate risks of direct competition in the market. This strategic approach strategically positions Zain KSA to navigate challenges and seize opportunities in the constantly evolving B2B sector.

Financial Risk(s)

Macroeconomic Factors

Macroeconomic headwinds pose a downside risk which indicates an inability to maintain growth and telecom share of the wallet. Despite a decrease in inflation from January 2023 (3.4%) to July 2023 (2.3%), a pressure remains on telco spending. This has dampened demand for new services. Furthermore, the increase in interest rates by the Saudi Central Bank (6% in July 2023 compared to 2.25% in July 2022) and SAIBOR indicators (3-month SAIBOR at 5.93% in June 2023 compared to 2.9% in June 2022) is impacting both current interest payments and future demand on CAPEX investments. This rise in interest rates adds financial pressure to the company's operations.

Zain KSA is mitigating its risk through revenue-boosting programs to maintain profitability. These include enhancing digitalization across all channels, hedging against future interest increases, and utilizing analytics to identify upsell opportunities and expand beyond telecom with a focus on B2B services. Moreover, this indicates the Company's dedication to identifying driving revenue growth as well as implementing continuous OPEX optimization programs, implementing strategic financial management.

Investment in Network / Return on Assets (ROA)

As the third-largest mobile telecoms operator in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Zain KSA requires significant capital investments to compete effectively, with a focus on 5G spectrum, fiber connections, and expanding 5G and 4G sites.

A low CAPEX can hinder our market position and customer experience refinement. Thus, achieving a balance between capital and a focus on Return on Assets (ROA) through attractive business proposals is crucial. Additionally, any potential increase in interest rates poses a risk to profitability. Managing these financial considerations is vital to maintaining competitiveness and financial performance in the Kingdom's dynamic telecoms market.

Zain KSA is actively investing in 5G to meet the increasing demand for broadband services. The company relies on a smart investment strategy, where extra spending is kept within financial caps. Capital projects are self-financed, and reliant on operating cash flow, with any cash shortfall redirected towards managing debt increases or shareholder liabilities. This approach underscores Zain KSA's commitment to prudent financial management and achieving sustainable growth in the dynamic telecoms industry.

Supply Chain Disruptions

As the world recovers from the COVID-19 pandemic, supply chain disruptions continue to be mitigated. Zain KSA is mitigating its risks through a review of critical inventory, managed services, and suppliers. We are also identifying and engaging with alternative options for our most critical suppliers. We are engaging with our suppliers to get prioritized/pre-book capacity in preparation for supply resumption, and re-channeling inventories in transit. Therefore, this is no longer a top priority for the company.

Compliance Risk

Evolving Regulatory Regime

As Governments continue to drive the digital society through various initiatives and programs, regulators are expanding their legislation on emerging technologies such as Fiber and 5G. As such, the involvement of cross-industry regulators and government entities has resulted in an overlap of regulatory ambit, which may result in delays in launching new cross-industry solutions and in regulatory non-compliance.

Some of the recent directives that are impacting the achievement of Zain KSA's business plans include spectrum auctions, regulations, and Nafath 2.0. Zain KSA ensures its risks are mitigated by proactively responding to regulatory requests, developing relationships with external stakeholders, and proactively engaging with cross-sector industry ecosystems. Zain KSA continues to implement various measures, controls, and strategies to compliance as part of a strong governance framework.

Data Governance & Privacy Risk

As the Kingdom gears up to regulate how data is classified, stored, and shared and how data privacy is addressed, the National Data Management Office (NDMO) has developed a framework for national data governance to set policies and regulations. Moreover, Personal Data Protection Laws (PDPL), regulates how businesses collect, process, and store personal data about individuals residing in the Kingdom. Telco operators must ensure compliance with these data governance regulations and data protection laws to ensure responsible management of personal data.

Zain KSA is mitigating its risks through various data governance and data privacy initiatives and projects. As part of the ongoing improvements in data governance in line with the updated regulations, Zain KSA is actively participating in developing and implementing strong frameworks for PDPL regulations. Zain KSA has conducted a current state assessment of its data management practices focusing on addressing potential gaps compared to the requirements of the PDPL and ensuring strict compliance with mandatory policies and procedures across relevant legislations.

These preemptive measures highlight Zain KSA's commitment to maintaining high standards in data management and privacy practices, showcasing alignment with the constantly evolving regulatory landscape.

Operational Risk(s):

Information Security & Cyber Risks

Information security & cyber risks continue to cause growing concern for companies globally as cyber threats continue to advance and persist, while the rapidly shifting landscape in data extortion methods used by cyber-criminals continues to cause major concerns. With the continued proliferation of devices, interfaces and networks, and vulnerabilities associated with remote work, cyber security remains a top and urgent priority.

Zain KSA continues to prioritize cybersecurity and recognizes it as a top urgent risk. The company actively mitigates its risks through regular internal and external assessments to ensure compliance with best practices and cybersecurity regulatory frameworks and standards, in addition to investing in multiple cybersecurity projects to mitigate new types of attacks and ensuing threats. Zain KSA's attainment of ISO 27001 certification during 2023 is a milestone highlighting the company's commitment to maintaining high cybersecurity standards and serving as evidence of Zain KSA's dedication to quality and security in its operations.

Talent Management

As the Kingdom continues its transformation initiatives through Saudi Vision 2030 programs, with the participation of government ministries and semi-government organizations, there is a huge demand for skilled resources leading to attractiveness in joining government and semi-government sectors. Moreover, digital transformation strategies, apart from an overhaul of systems and processes, require a transformation of workforce capability and skills. Talent acquisition needs are pronounced in domains such as data science, IoT, RPA and software-based networks. As such, talent attraction and retention is essential for achieving operational efficiencies.

The preemptive mitigation strategies and future-readiness practices adopted by Zain KSA involved talent gap analysis, organizational restructuring, partnerships with universities to recruit talent with the right skill sets. It also continued to attract top ICT talent by creating compelling remunerations, initiating retention efforts, and enhancing the work environment. These efforts confirm Zain KSA's commitment to strategic talent management to ensure the company thrives with the right skills for a digital era.

Note: Numbers may not sum up due to the rounding

It's worth mentioning that the geographical analysis of revenue does not apply due to the nature of the Company's operations. This is attributed to the mobility of the customer within the Kingdom; so, the customer's information might be registered in some region while the telecommunication activities are initiated from different regions depending on the location. Furthermore, revenue generated by international calls couldn't be linked to any region since they occur overseas, consequently Zain-KSA has bifurcated revenue between national and international revenue segment only where international revenue constitute 14.28% of total revenue (2022: 14.10%).
